DYING TO FIGHT

It is honest and pulls no punches in it's narrative. The story is woven around other related stories.

First: It portrays the story of a very special young man ; who he was and who he has become.

It's the story of the unconditional love of a mother and father for their only son.

It's an expose' of the barbaric sport of boxing, where the sole objective is to destroy someone's brain.

"Peter Bruno can tell a story. In person he is a passionate guy. He has the knack to make you laugh, and laugh with you. But he also has the courage to cry when talking about his own life. On paper , he is exactly the same. Peter's tale about the valiant battles waged by his son, Tony, and by the entire Bruno family warms your soul and squeezes your heart. All at the same time. His zest for life and his deep love for his son come right through the pages. Peter Bruno can definitely tell a story."
